Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Friday 08 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mostly cloudy with occasional rain. Drier in the east.

Today:
Bright start in the far north otherwise cloudy with occasional rain in the north and west. The east coast, southeast and far south will become mainly dry with bright or sunny intervals. Warm, especially in brighter spells in the east.

Tonight:
Mainly dry in the south and east, though some rain reaching the Clyde Coast by morning. Rain turning heavy across the northwest overnight, especially over the Western Isles.

Saturday:
Early heavy rain in northwest easing but spreading east through the day, with brighter drier weather following to the west later.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Sunny intervals and scattered showers on Sunday. Then rain returning on Monday, heavy over West Highlands. Tuesday mainly dry in east, some light rain in west.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.